

MINI-BOOK STORY ILLUSTRATING THE RELATIONSHIP WHEEL

Individually write and illustrate a mini-storybook about the relationship wheel using your class notes and creativity.

In this book you will write a scenario about a relationship showing either positive or negative movement of the wheel. The story must include all four components of the wheel.

You must also include...

- Two characters in a relationship. These can be humans, but can also be represented as non-humans (animals, robots, etc.) too.
- A realistic, original storyline of the relationship that clearly shows progression of the wheel going forward or backwards using all four components.
- Hand drawn characters (no stick figures) and illustrations on each page that are effective in portraying your story. This mini-storybook should include a lot of COLOR!
- Simple and straightforward text! The storybook is comprised of 7 pages of storyline including the back cover.
- The title page includes your name and a creative title that fits your storyline.
- Some class time will be provided for you to get started so use it WISELY

SCORING GUIDE:

Guidelines for maximum points	Earned Points	Objectives not achieved
Copy (5 points) (0 points)
Story is realistic, direct and deliberate. Excellent word choice.		Story is not clear and it is confusing. Poor word choice.
Illustrations (10 points) (0 points)
Creative & colorful illustrations on each page that portray your story in an effective way.		Illustrations do not go with or enhance your story; there is no color or there are no illustrations
